Tomato

Garlic

Garlic is a powerful disease fighter that can inhibit the growth of bacteria, including E. coli. Allicin, a compound found in garlic, works as a potent anti-inflammatory and has been shown to help lower cholesterol and blood-pressure levels.

Green Apple

The fiber composition in Green Apples helps in digestion and cuts down the vulnerability to Colon Cancer. It doesn't contain cholesterol which can help you maintain your calorie strict diet regime for weight loss. It contains comparatively less proportion of fructose content than the Red Apples, which can allow consumption by Diabetic Patients.

Beans

Eating a serving of legumes (beans, peas, and lentils) four times a week can lower your risk of heart disease by 22%. That same habit may also reduce your risk of breast cancer.

Honey

It has anti-inflammatory effects and ability to soothe coughs that led to the belief it can also reduce seasonal allergy symptoms. It is an excellent source of all natural energy at just 17g of carbohydrate per tablespoon. The sweet nectar is loaded in antioxidants that may help prevent cellular damage and loss within the brain.

Sweet Potato

One red potato contains 66 mg of cell-building folate — about the same amount found in one cup of spinach or broccoli. One sweet potato has almost eight times the amount of cancer-fighting and immune-boosting vitamin A you need daily.

Yogurt

Yogurt smooths skin, soothes the stomach. The probiotics (beneficial bacteria) in some yogurts balance the microflora in your gut, which can aid with digestion as well as keep you regular. Consuming fat free and low fat yogurt may help lower your risk of developing high blood pressure.

Broccoli

One medium stalk of broccoli contains more than 100% of your daily vitamin K requirement and almost 200% of your recommended daily dose of vitamin C — two essential bone-building nutrients. The same serving also helps stave off numerous cancers.

Lemon

Just one lemon has more than 100% of your daily intake of vitamin C, which may help increase "good" HDL cholesterol levels and strengthen bones. Citrus flavonoids found in lemons may help inhibit the growth of cancer cells and act as an anti-inflammatory.

Dark Chocolate

Just one-fourth of a source daily can reduce blood pressure in otherwise healthy individuals. Cocoa powder is rich in flavonoids, antioxidants shown to reduce "bad" LDL cholesterol and increase "good" HDL levels.
